

19th World Congress of AIMS

10-12 May 2012 | Prague - CZE

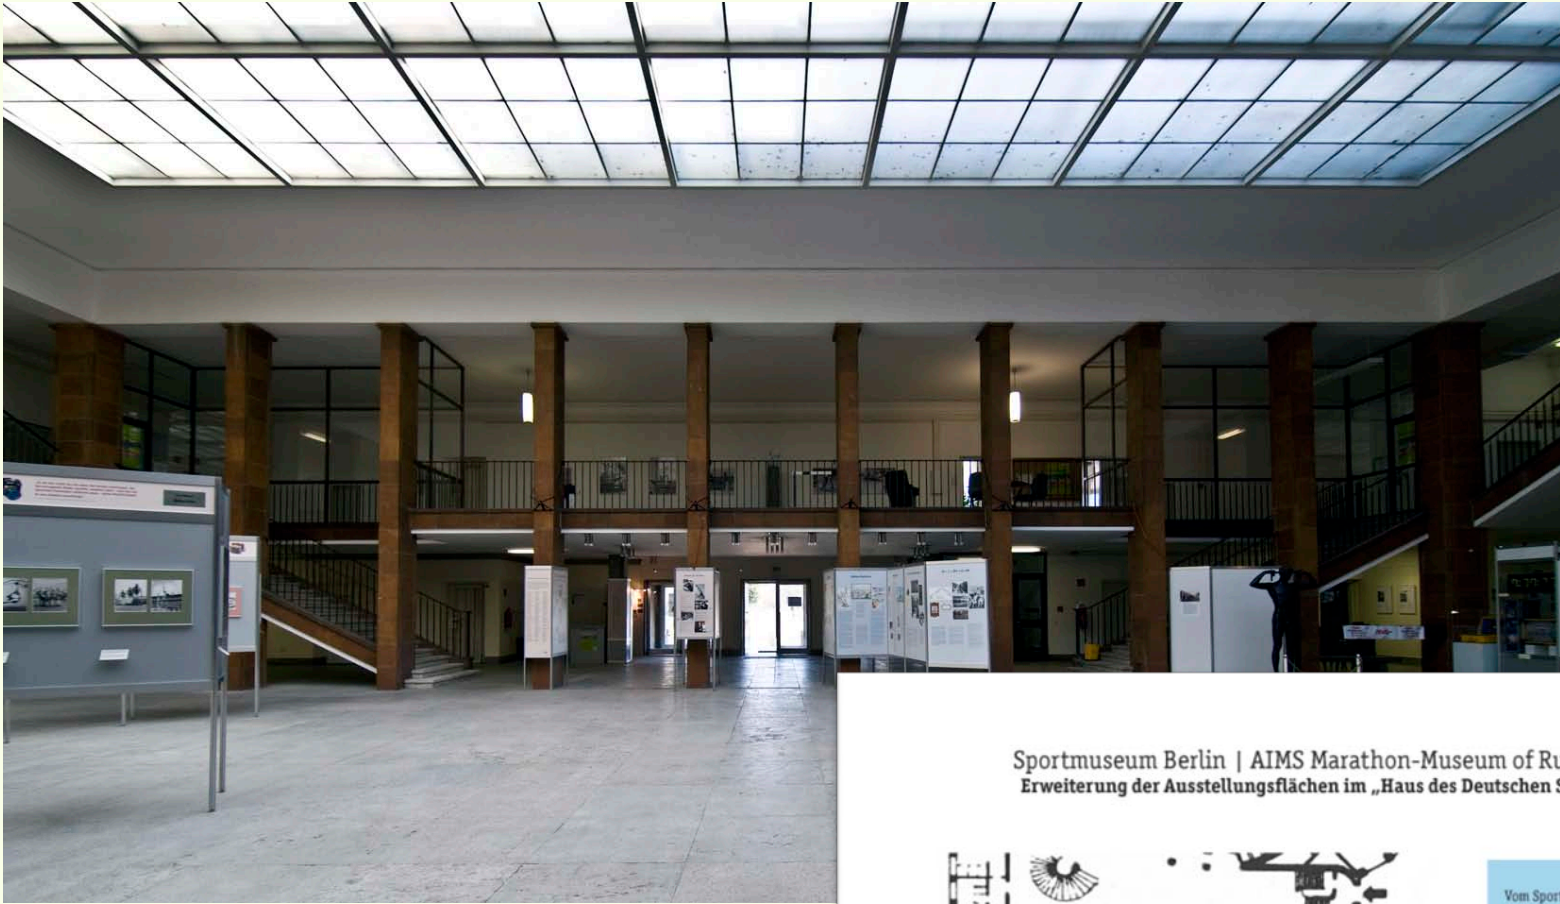

19th World Congress of AIMS

A report by Horst Milde (Berlin)

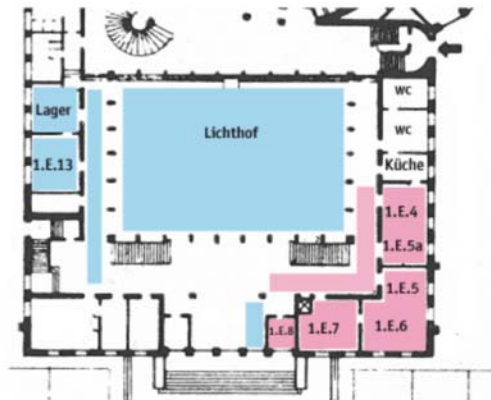

AIMS Marathon Museum of Running in Berlin

The Exhibition Hall and Entrance

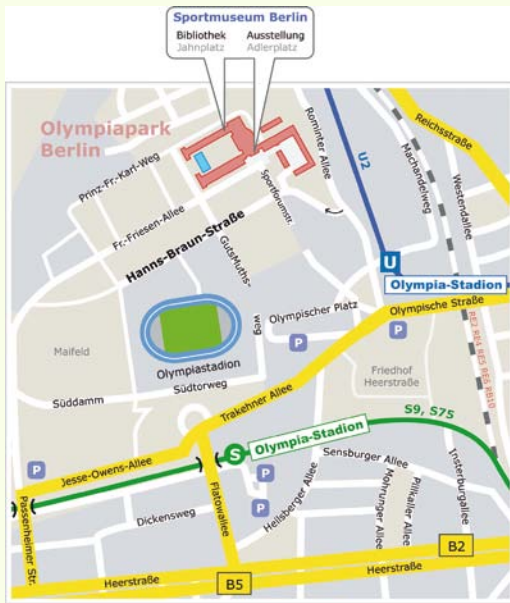

Sportmuseum Berlin | AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running
 Erweiterung der Ausstellungsflächen im „Haus des Deutschen Sports“

Vom Sportmuseum
 bereits genutzt

Nutzung:
 ab März 2010

Die Erweiterungsflächen werden am 19./20. August 2010 mit einer Jubiläumsausstellung „2500 Jahre Marathon“ im Rahmen eines Sport-festes im Olympiapark eröffnet.

Overview

The Olympic Stadium Berlin

Maifeld and Bell Tower Berlin

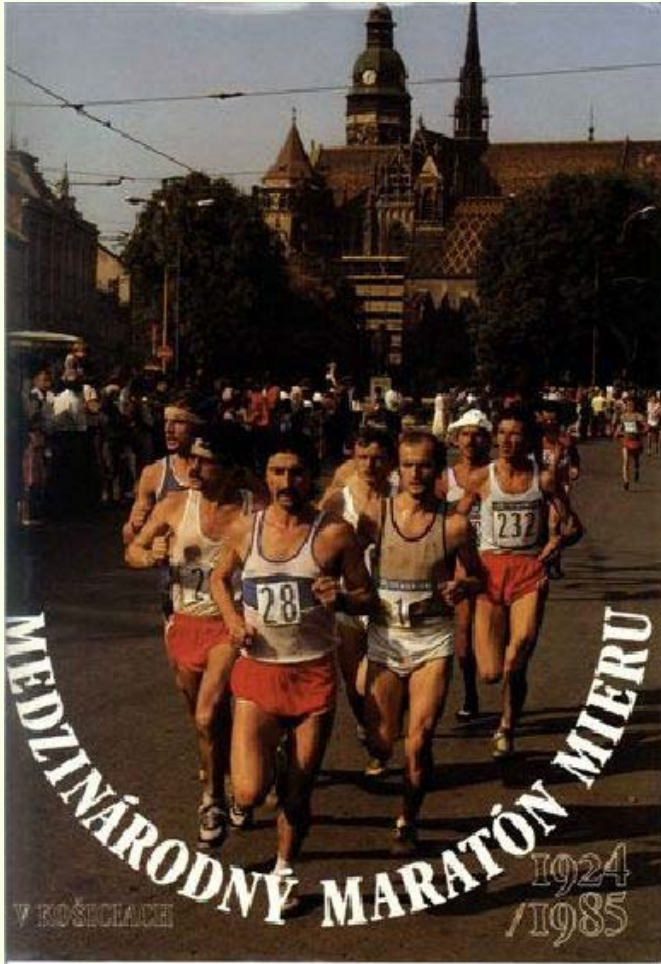

ISTAF Berlin

Entrance of Olympic Park

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | Kosice Marathon

Kosice Marathon - OLDEST MARATHON IN EUROPE – since 1924

Anniversary Poster 1924 – 1985

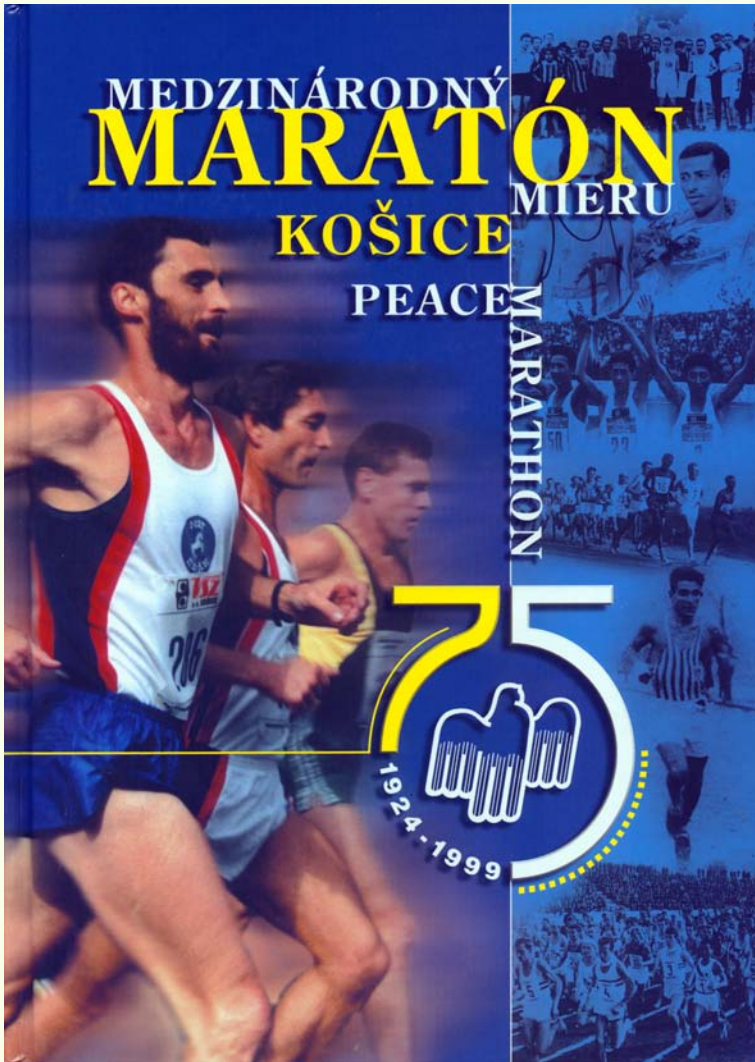

Kosice Start 1924

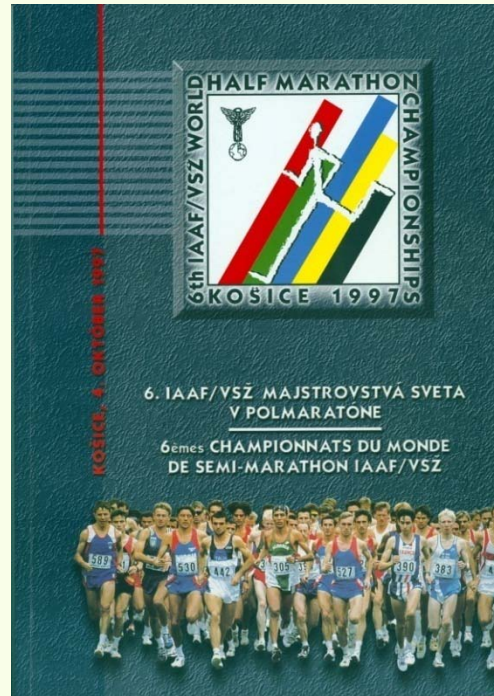

Kosice 1928

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | Kosice Marathon

Marathon-Anniversary Book 1924-1999

<< Kosice World Championships 1997

Kosice Medals

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | Wim Verhoorn

Wim Verhoorn with the bag from the 1st AIMS World Congress in Tokyo in 1983

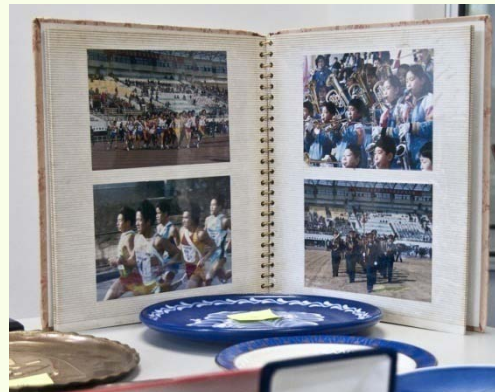

Cufflinks and souvenirs

Photos of events and athletes

Ties and caps

<< Album with photos from Japan / Commemorative plate

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | „Dr. David Martin Collection“

Dr. David Martin

Moving boxes ready to be transported to Berlin

Picking up Dave Martin's artefacts from Atlanta, Georgia (USA)

<< Putting up shelving in Berlin with his donation

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | „Dr. David Martin Collection“

Unsorted books

Shelf with Dave Martin's treasures

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | „Dr. David Martin Collection“

Dr. Dave Martin and a t-shirt

Dr. Dave Martin and the team from the Atlanta Track Club – after finishing packing

Brick from his office

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | 75-Year Anniversary of the Olympic Games in Berlin- A photo exhibition with rare photos

The track and field referees in the Olympic Stadium, Berlin 1936

Pressrelease of the „Forum für Sportgeschichte“

75-Year Anniversary of the Olympic Games in Berlin
100 rare and little-known photos

August 15, 2011 – December 23, 2012

Admission free | Mon. - Fri.: 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.
(closed on holidays)
„Haus des Deutschen Sports“ (Adlerplatz)
Olympiapark Berlin - 14053 Berlin

100 seltene und unbekannte Fotos
100 rare and little known photos

75 Jahre Olympische Spiele Berlin 1936
75-Year Anniversary of the Olympic Games in Berlin

SPORHISTORISCHE BLÄTTER

this in his book What I saw at the 1936 Olympic Games (Was ich bei den Olympischen Spielen 1936 sah):
Our mood sank to the bottom. To want something and not be allowed to do it! We stood there like horses with their heads pulled back with each bite. And when the starting shots were fired down on the track, I was standing up in the stands at my lonely post in the middle of the crowd, who let me know that I was not "transported". They did not like seeing me much there at all. I crowded down into the smallest space. My colleague watched with detached teeth 100 metres away at the finish line tape was torn. We were faced with some battles between duty and self-interest and antagonism between reason and angry negation. (HOF, p. 18)

These working conditions were a strict consequence of the explosive utilization of these Olympic Games, which Angermeyer described in his Hymns to Berlin (Hymnen an Berlin) in 1935: These Games provided us with an invaluable means of propaganda. Reichspropaganda No. 21, May 15, 1935 p. 583.

This culminated in a photo advertisement, in which Adolf Hitler's building enthusiasm was suggested. With the photo caption: We're ready to build the classic photograph of a powerful load of state was staged - a Führer photo that was sent around the world, which even today is often reprinted in publications without comment or critique.

Photos are often selected or ignored by text-oriented academics and exhibition curators according to the aspect of beauty or to the price of the copyright fee charged. For that reason, they often select their photos from the pool of photos that are available from the photo trading card albums, commemorative books, and special magazine editions from 1936. Surely a much effort or money invested in searching the archives and museums for other unpublished materials, with the result that the current presentation of the 1936 Games is still filled with the photo-aesthetics and selection that stemmed from the Nazi times.

In order to break through these barriers, the Berlin Sports Museum and the Division for Sport history is presenting this selection of photos. The photo collection of the 1936 Berlin Games in the archives of the Sport Museum and Forum includes 1,170 photos (about 600 of them still unpublished) - from which this selection of 100 photos was made - 100 photographs were selected (of which 90 had never been published previously) and grouped into the following chapters:
"We're ready to build ..."
Under construction
House of German Sports
Organization and promotion
Training and preparations
Flaming times
"We're going to Berlin ..."
In training
In the here
Spyrides Louis in Berlin
In front of and behind the scenes

Front page of the exhibition brochure

Press release for the opening of the exhibition

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running |

75-Year Anniversary of the Olympic Games in Berlin- A photo exhibition with rare photos

Marathon Champion Kee Chung Sohn of Korea, started under the name of Kitei Son for Japan

Cameraman for the Olympiafilm production uses an umbrella to protect himself from the sun, August 3, 1936

John Lovelock (NZL) – Champion 1500 m

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | display cases

<< T-shirt, bib and shoes from Patrick Makau (KEN).
World Record Berlin 2011 2:03:38

display cases

Haile Gebrselassie (ETH): his bibs, trousers and shoes

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | Victor Sailer

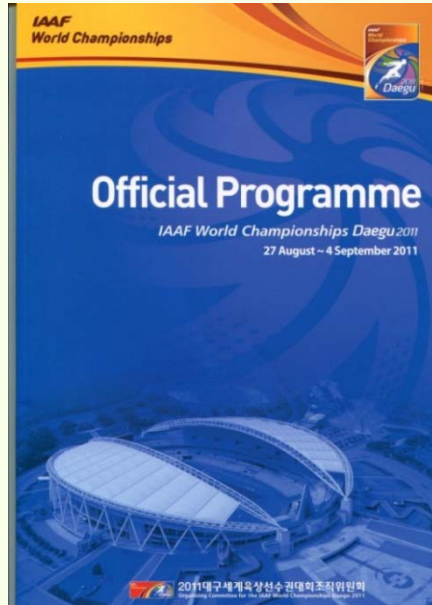

left: Victor Sailer - the famous photographer in his “working position” on the motorcycle before the race

right: Photo “bib” from the Dubai Marathon

Accreditations from around the world

Programme for Daegu 2011

Official photographers' jacket from the Olympic Games in Beijing in 2008

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | diverse

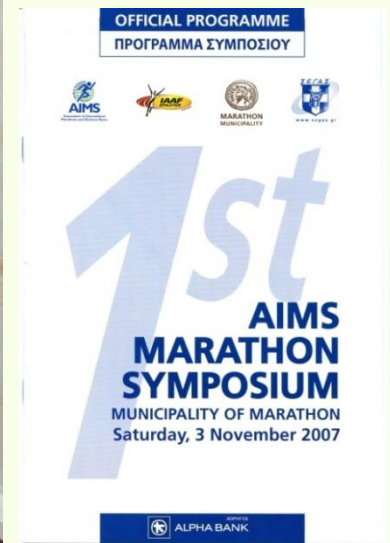

Peter Samulski (1938 – 2012)
100 km runner

Trophies stored in the museum archives

Athens Marathon wine bottle

Programme for the 1st AIMS Marathon Symposium 2007

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | Bernd Düngen

German runner and race organiser left: Memories from the New York City Marathon: Programme 1987 and Newspaper extra right: bib, Acceptance card, Results card and Photo offers 1987

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | Michael Heilmann

Michael Heilmann:
(b. 26 October 1961) GDR/GER

Famous marathon runner.
Marathon 2:09:03 h, 14 April 1985 in Hiroshima

Victorious in Kosice –
2 October 1988 in 2:17:52

Heilmann in the Skoda he won– with flowers The East German functionaries took away this prize.

Badge: Tokyo Marathon 1983

Race number from the IAAF
World Cup Seoul

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | Michael Heilmann

Champion certificate from Kosice certificate for the junior champion

Race number from the World Cup in Hiroshima in 1985

Fukuoka sticker

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | Revenue – Expenses

| Revenue – Expenses AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running 2009 – 2011 | | | | |
|--|------------------|-------------------|-------------------|-------------------|
| | Contributions | material expenses | personnel costs | Total costs |
| 2009 | 12,727.65 | 12,438.95 | 33,786.86 | 46,225.81 |
| 2010 | 10,996.67 | 14,731.90 | 31,666.61 | 46,398.51 |
| 2011 | 11,394.22 | 9,948.23 | 37,377.50 | 47,325.73 |
| Summe | 35,118.54 | 37,119.08 | 102,830.97 | 139,950.05 |

*All prices in euro

75-Year Anniversary of the Olympic Games in Berlin- A photo exhibition with rare photos

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | Ingo Sensburg

Successful runner from Berlin – 800 m up to the marathon – Indoor European Champion in the 3000m in 1976 and three-time Berlin Marathon champion

Sensburg and his trophies

PUMA indoor spikes from his indoor European Championships victory medals

trophy

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | AIMS TROPHIES

Citizen Fastest Time

ASICS Golden Shoe

AIMS Marathon-Museum of Running | We are looking for...

advertising,
archival materials,
athletic measuring devices,
award certificates and ribbons,
certificates,
documents,
emblems,
exercise and sports equipments,
flags and pennants,
graphic arts,
magazines,
medals,
newspapers,
paintings,
photographs and photo albums,

pins,
placards,
posters,
post cards
prizes and trophies,
programmes,
recordings,
sculptures,
slides, films, videos,
souvenirs,
sports clothing,
sports equipment,
sport history literature,
training equipment,

and much more!

AIMS material

All publications, congress reports, board papers, protocols, etc. are archived. The AIMS board papers are only accessible by AIMS members. Confidential materials may only be shared with permission from the AIMS executive committee.

Breal Cup – for Spiridon Louis, the marathon champion at the 1896 Olympic Games in Athens – rare replica in the AIMS Marathon Museum of Running.

Thank you for your Attention

Horst Milde – BERLIN

The AIMS Marathon Museum of Running – Olympic Parc Berlin